

The Center for Action and Contemplation presents

Scripture, Story Telling and Justice

with

Megan McKenna

Together we will look at the scriptures and examine them for the issues of justice: the good news to the poor, the call to radical conversion and love that defies death, truth-telling and personal spirituality that is rooted in community care for others' human rights. And we will hear stories from around the world that remind us of the centrality of justice and peace in all the scriptures and good news of religion and peoples.
