

with a masters from the Jonnie Coleman Institute in Chicago, she is director of an alternative high school in Milwaukee, and chaplain of the Nehemiah Project, promoting crosscultural dialogue, especially between African and Celtic spirituality. Sat. (4.06) & Sun. (12.06), 7:45 AM

Challenging Pax Americana: Catholic Peacemaking in an Age of Empire-Building

Dave Robinson presents our peacemaking challenge in light of 9/11, the war on terrorism, and the war against Iraq. Any articulation of belief and practice about war/peace must arise from the sensus fidelium, especially the lived experience of Catholics daily impacted by war and violence.

Robinson is national coordinator of Pax Christi USA, which sponsors this session. In the past 18 months he has participated in delegations to Iraq, Pakistan and Afghanistan to dialogue with communities in the midst of conflict. He represents Pax Christi International on disarmament at the U.N., and is a consultant to NGOs working on issues of international peace and conflict resolution. Sat., 1 PM (8.15) & 2:30 PM (9.11)

The Israeli-Palestinian Conflict: Is There a Way Forward?

Rosemary Ruether, author of The Wrath of Jonah: The Crisis of Religious Nationalism in the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict, explains the historical roots and development of the current standoff. She seeks to help Christians, especially in the West, to understand the religious factors that are shaping the conflict and the possibilities that exist for St. Benedict the Moor Parish Youth Group will lead Taizé prayer.

Praying with Movement

Jan Sheridan leads a prayer session in which we design our own gestures and movement to Christ's songs. No dance experience is necessary. We follow the natural inclinations of our bodies listening to the words and melodies. We learn an approach to praying that we can take home to our parishes share with young and old alike. Sheridan is a hospital chaplain and a liturgical dancer from East Aurora, N.Y. Sat. (4.08) & Sun. (12.08), 7:45 AM

Peacemakers Gather Forgiveness: Stories for the Peacemaker

Kathy Sherman, CSJ is poet with a passion for peace. For her, sharing the stories ignite our passion to act for the world. This is a product of prophetic leadership songs since 1968. Sherman has published 13 CDs shared and sung throughout the world. With a B.S. in masters in pastoral studies, she belongs to the St. LaGrange, Ill. Sat., 2:30 PM (9.13) & 8 PM (11.08)

Clergy Sexual Abuse: The Crisis Behind the Crisis

Richard Sipe analyzes the sexual crisis lurking behind the sexual abuse of minors by finds a pre-Copernican unisexuality and a power system sexual myth. A former Benedictine psychotherapist and author of Calif., Sipe is the nation's psychological and spiritual aspects of celibacy. He sexuality, recovery, family therapy and celibacy. Priests and Power: Anatomy of a Crisis and A Search for the Search for Celibacy. Fri., 3:15 PM (2.12) & Sat.

Lessons from Apartheid

Linda E. Thomas examines the process of Black South African healing in the indigenous resiliency of the people in the death-dealing structures degrees in both theology and anthropology. Her research